

REHAB

IS A VERY

HANDS-ON PROCESS.

SO SHOULDN'T YOU
BE VERY CAREFUL
OF WHOSE HANDS YOU SELECT?

Every form of physical therapy requires a one-on-one therapist specifically trained to guide you through a process to restore you to as successful a recovery as possible. So for that kind of close care shouldn't you look for a resource that's been caring longer than any other healthcare facility in Southern Illinois? If that sounds like your kind of therapy you need the compassionate, skilled hands of the therapists' of St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Physical, occupational, speech, audiology, low vision, hand, women's, pediatric, work conditioning, sports injury and aquatic therapies? In a word, yes.

Virtually every service you or a loved one might need or want for rehabilitation is available at convenient locations throughout the metro east. St. Elizabeth's even has specialized care for both women and children in dedicated areas of our outpatient and inpatient facilities. We are staffed to treat:

- stroke
- hip fractures
- head injuries
- major multiple trauma
- non-traumatic brain injury
- neurological disease
- arthritis
- joint replacement
- spinal cord injury
- burns
- congenital deformity
- amputation
- acute pain
- chronic pain
- sports injuries and more

This includes a multi-disciplinary approach to your inpatient treatment starting with a physician (physiatrist) to coordinate your rehab plan and the team who will provide it.

Women's therapy in a female-only environment.

At St. Elizabeth's we understand that some conditions may be very sensitive to women such as incontinence, post mastectomy treatment, lymphedema, pelvic pain, and back pain due to pregnancy so we offer a private and very personal clinic just for you. But then again, you'd expect that level of sensitivity from a hospital founded by Nuns.

Accreditation on a higher order.

St. Elizabeth's is accredited for inpatient physical therapy by the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF) and the Joint Commission. But with over 134 years of dedicated, selfless, caring and compassionate service to the Belleville community don't you think we have accreditation from a much higher authority than that?
